Accessibility Statement

BCcampus Open Education believes that education must be available to everyone which means supporting the creation of free, open, and accessible educational resources. We are actively committed to increasing the accessibility and usability of the textbooks and guides we produce.

Accessibility features of the web version of this resource

The web version of the Post-Secondary Directory has been designed with accessibility in mind by incorporating the following features:

- All content can be navigated using a keyboard
- It has been optimized for people who use screen-reader technology.
    - links and headings are formatted to work with screen readers
    - images have alt tags or are described in surrounding text
- Information is not conveyed by colour alone.
- There is an option to increase font size (see tab on top right of screen)

Other file formats available

In addition to the web version, additional files are available in a number of file formats including PDF, EPUB (for eReaders), MOBI (for Kindles), upon request made to BCcampus Support.

Known accessibility issues and areas for improvement

While we strive to ensure that this resource is as accessible and usable as possible, we might not always get it right. Any issues we identify will be listed below.

While there are currently no known accessibility issues in this guide, we do link to external resources throughout this guide; and we cannot guarantee that the resources we are linking to conform to accessibility guidelines.

Accessibility standards

The web version of this resource has been designed to meet Web Content Accessibility Guidelines 2.0, level AA. In addition, it follows all guidelines in the Checklist for Accessibility.

Let us know if you are having problems accessing this guide

We are always looking for ways to make our resources more accessible. If you have problems accessing this resource, please contact us to let us know so we can fix the issue.

Please include the following information:

- The location of the problem by providing a web address or page description
- A description of the problem
- The computer, software, browser, and any assistive technology you are using that can help us diagnose and solve your issue
    - e.g., Windows 10, Google Chrome (Version 65.0.3325.181), NVDA screen reader

You can contact us one of the following ways:

About BCcampus Open Education

This is one of many support resources from BCcampus Open Education.
Also see the Information Directory and OER by Discipline Directory.

Welcome to the BCcampus Open Education Post-Secondary Directory where, in the first section, open education information for each post-secondary institution in British Columbia has been aggregated into one resource for all to reference. The second section lays out open education information for the rest of Canada by province and territory.

This is an ongoing resource to which information will be updated as needed. Each chapter includes a "Last update" posted at the top of the page and, because it is changed frequently, ISBNs are not provided for this guide in accordance with the ISBNs' User Manual.

BCcampus Open Education began in 2012 as the B.C. Open Textbook Project with the goal of making post-secondary education in British Columbia more accessible by reducing students' costs through the use of open textbooks and other OER. BCcampus supports the post-secondary institutions of British Columbia as they adapt and evolve their teaching and learning practices to enable powerful learning opportunities for the students of B.C. BCcampus Open Education is funded by the British Columbia Ministry of Post-Secondary Education and Future Skills, and the Hewlett Foundation.

Open educational resources (OER) are defined as teaching, learning, and research resources that, through permissions granted by the copyright holder, allow others to use, distribute, keep, or make changes to them. Our support resources are openly licensed using a Creative Commons licence, and are offered in various e-book formats free of charge, or as printed books that are available at cost.

For more information about open education in British Columbia, please visit the BCcampus Open Education website.

Introduction

One of the challenges of working in a relatively new field, like open education, is finding the community, tools, and support needed–especially at the local level.

This directory is an open educational reference for post-secondary institutions in British Columbia and Canada. The first section focuses on B.C. colleges, institutes, and universities and the way in which each: provides support for its community; uses, creates, and evaluates open educational resources; and engages in open education on campus through events, a working group, and student involvement.

The second section is divided into Canada's remaining nine provinces and three territories, listed alphabetically. Each chapter begins with province- or territory-wide post-secondary information such the names and links to open education projects and collections, post-secondary library associations, and government departments or ministries of higher education. This is followed by post-secondary institutions that have posted their OER/OEP guides and involvement in open education. An overview of Canada's national open education initiatives can be found in the appendix.

Regardless of open education participation, the intention and design behind this directory are to provide a mean of sharing ideas and practices. In the first section, a standard template is used to lay out each institution's resources and practices so that both the individual searching for assistance at their home institution and their colleagues at other colleges and universities can easily locate institution-specific, open education information.

The following open education categories are used for each institutional entry in the British Columbia section of this directory. When fitting, an item may be placed under more than one heading.

UCW Library

- Open educational resources (OER)

OER for courses

Students are required to purchase course textbooks, however, UCW has taken steps to support the addition of Open Educational Resources (OER) in courses across the institution. OERs act as a replacement to some of the textbooks and learning resources mentioned. The adoption of OERs in courses addresses issues around access, alleviates financial barriers and makes education more accessible for students.

Courses that are fully OER, and require no purchasing of textbooks or resources, will be listed in the course description section with the below symbol.[1]

Zero Textbook Cost program

- The MBA Foundation program is the first fully OER program at UCW. All courses within this program have no textbook or resource fees. (See MBAF Web Resources.)

One or more interactive elements has been excluded from this version of the text. You can view them online here: https://opentextbc.ca/postsecondary/?p=2185#oembed-1

Appendix B: British Columbia Resources

B.C. Federation of Students: A group that provides a voice for students, advocating for student rights, and actively promoting initiatives to reduce the cost of learning.

B.C. Open Education Librarians (BCOEL): An active community of librarians across British Columbia building support, awareness, and adoption of and for open educational practices

B.C. Transfer Guide: A system enables you to receive credit at an institution for a course taken at another Disability Resource Network of BC for Post Secondary Education: The provincial organization that represents individuals who provide programs and services for individuals who have disabilities, in the British Columbia Post Secondary Education system.

Education PlannerBC: Helps learners make well informed decisions about their education and career options. Use the Plan section to find articles and information about the different paths along the student journey. Open textbooks and the B.C. Open Textbook Collection are referenced on their Cost of Education page.

Educational Technology Users Group (ETUG): Facilitates ways to enhance learning and teaching through technology. This community of post-secondary educators nurtures an environment of sharing, innovating, and supporting the development of ideas, resources, and ongoing professional development for our educational colleagues in B.C.)

Information Directory: This resource, published by BCcampus Open Education, lists blogs, books, news, and research for English-speaking countries specifically Canada, the United States, and nations in the Global North and the Global South.

OpenETC: A community of educators, technologists, and designers focused on providing a more sustainable educational technology infrastructure for the post-secondary institutions of B.C.

Post-Secondary Communication Access Services (PCAS): Housed at BCIT, PCAS is available to all members of B.C.'s post-secondary system. The BC Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Training funds this province-wide service to support access for students who are deaf, hard of hearing and deaf-blind.

Post-Secondary Directory: This resource, published by BCcampus Open Education, is a reference about open education activity in post-secondary institutions in British Columbia and across Canada.

Supporting Students with Disabilities course website: This course was a joint project involving the Justice Institute of BC, Camosun College, and Selkirk College. This project was made possible through funding from the Ministry of Advanced Education and Skills Training in the Province of British Columbia.

Teaching + Learning: Sponsored by BCcampus, this portal lets B.C.'s post-secondary educators can promote and join their colleagues in professional development opportunities for teaching and learning around the province.

Virtual Lab and Science Resources Directory: This resource was published by BCcampus Open Education lists free science resources designed to support remote science education.

Working Group Guide: This resource was published by BCcampus Open Education for librarians, staff, and faculty who support or are supporting open education at their institution and are starting or running an open working group. This resource contains three sections to help users establish, run, and sustain a working group.
